

Mirion Technologies Announces Pricing of Upsized Public Offering of Class A Common Stock

Atlanta, GA – September 25, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) – Mirion Technologies, Inc. (“Mirion”) (NYSE: MIR), today announced the pricing of an underwritten public offering of 17,309,846 shares of Mirion’s Class A common stock at a public offering price of $21.35 per share (the “common stock offering”). The size of the common stock offering was increased from the previously announced $350.0 million of shares of Class A common stock.

In addition, Mirion granted the underwriters an option to purchase up to an additional 2,596,476 shares of Class A common stock at the public offering price, less underwriting discounts and commissions. The common stock offering is expected to close on September 30, 2025, subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions.

Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, Evercore ISI, Citigroup, Morgan Stanley, Baird and Truist Securities are acting as the joint book-running managers for the common stock offering. CJS Securities and B. Riley Securities are acting as co-managers for the common stock offering.

Mirion estimates that the net proceeds from the common stock offering will be approximately $356.2 million after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by Mirion. Mirion expects to use the net proceeds from the common stock offering, together with the net proceeds from Mirion’s concurrent convertible notes offering (as defined below), if consummated, to (i) pay the cost of the capped call transactions entered into with certain of the initial purchasers in the concurrent convertible notes offering or affiliates thereof and certain other financial institutions in connection with the pricing of the concurrent convertible notes offering and (ii) fund its planned acquisition of all of the outstanding membership interests of WCI-Gigawatt Intermediate Holdco, LLC, as the indirect parent of Paragon Energy Solutions, LLC (the “Acquisition”), with the remainder for general corporate purposes. If the Acquisition is not consummated for any reason, Mirion expects to use the net proceeds from the common stock offering, together with the net proceeds from the concurrent convertible notes offering, if consummated, remaining after payment of the cost of the capped call transactions, for general corporate purposes.

In a separate press release and concurrently with the common stock offering, Mirion also announced today the pricing of its previously announced offering of $325.0 million aggregate principal amount of its Convertible Senior Notes due 2031 (the “notes”) to persons reasonably believed to be qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “concurrent convertible notes offering”). The size of the concurrent convertible notes offering was increased from the previously announced $250.0 million aggregate principal amount of notes. Mirion also granted to the initial purchasers in the concurrent convertible notes offering an option to purchase, within a 13-day period beginning on, and including, the date on which the notes are first issued, up to an additional $50.0 million aggregate principal amount of notes. The concurrent convertible notes offering is expected to close on September 30, 2025, subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions. The completion of the common stock offering is not contingent on the completion of the concurrent convertible notes offering, and the completion of the concurrent convertible notes offering is not contingent on the completion of the common stock offering.

The common stock offering is being made pursuant to a shelf registration statement, including a base prospectus, that was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) on November 17, 2022, and declared effective on November 28, 2022. The common stock offering is being made only by means of a prospectus supplement and the accompanying prospectus.
